

What you have is so precious and so fleeting.

*None
of the little stuff matters.*

Just hold your infants and enjoy them, squeeze them and remember the moments.

And no, you won't sleep - but you won't die of it, even though you may feel like it.